OAKLEY META HSTN

These are the core technologies behind
Oakley's high-performance sun lenses:

OAKLEY HIGH DEFINITION OPTICS® UNCOMPROMISED CLARITY FOR OPTIMIZED VISION

Oakley learned decades ago that when lenses are curved, it can and will affect optics, and your vision as a result. The patented HDO technology addresses these issues with corrected optics to give you clearer, sharper, and more accurate vision, while eliminating distortion common in high-wrap sunglasses.

PLUTONITE®: THE DURABLE AND OPTICALLY PURE LENS MATERIAL

Plutonite® lens material is designed and manufactured exclusively for Oakley® and is made from the purest form of optical polycarbonate. It is 20% lighter than plastic or glass lenses and is impact resistant.

UV PROTECTION FROM THE SUN

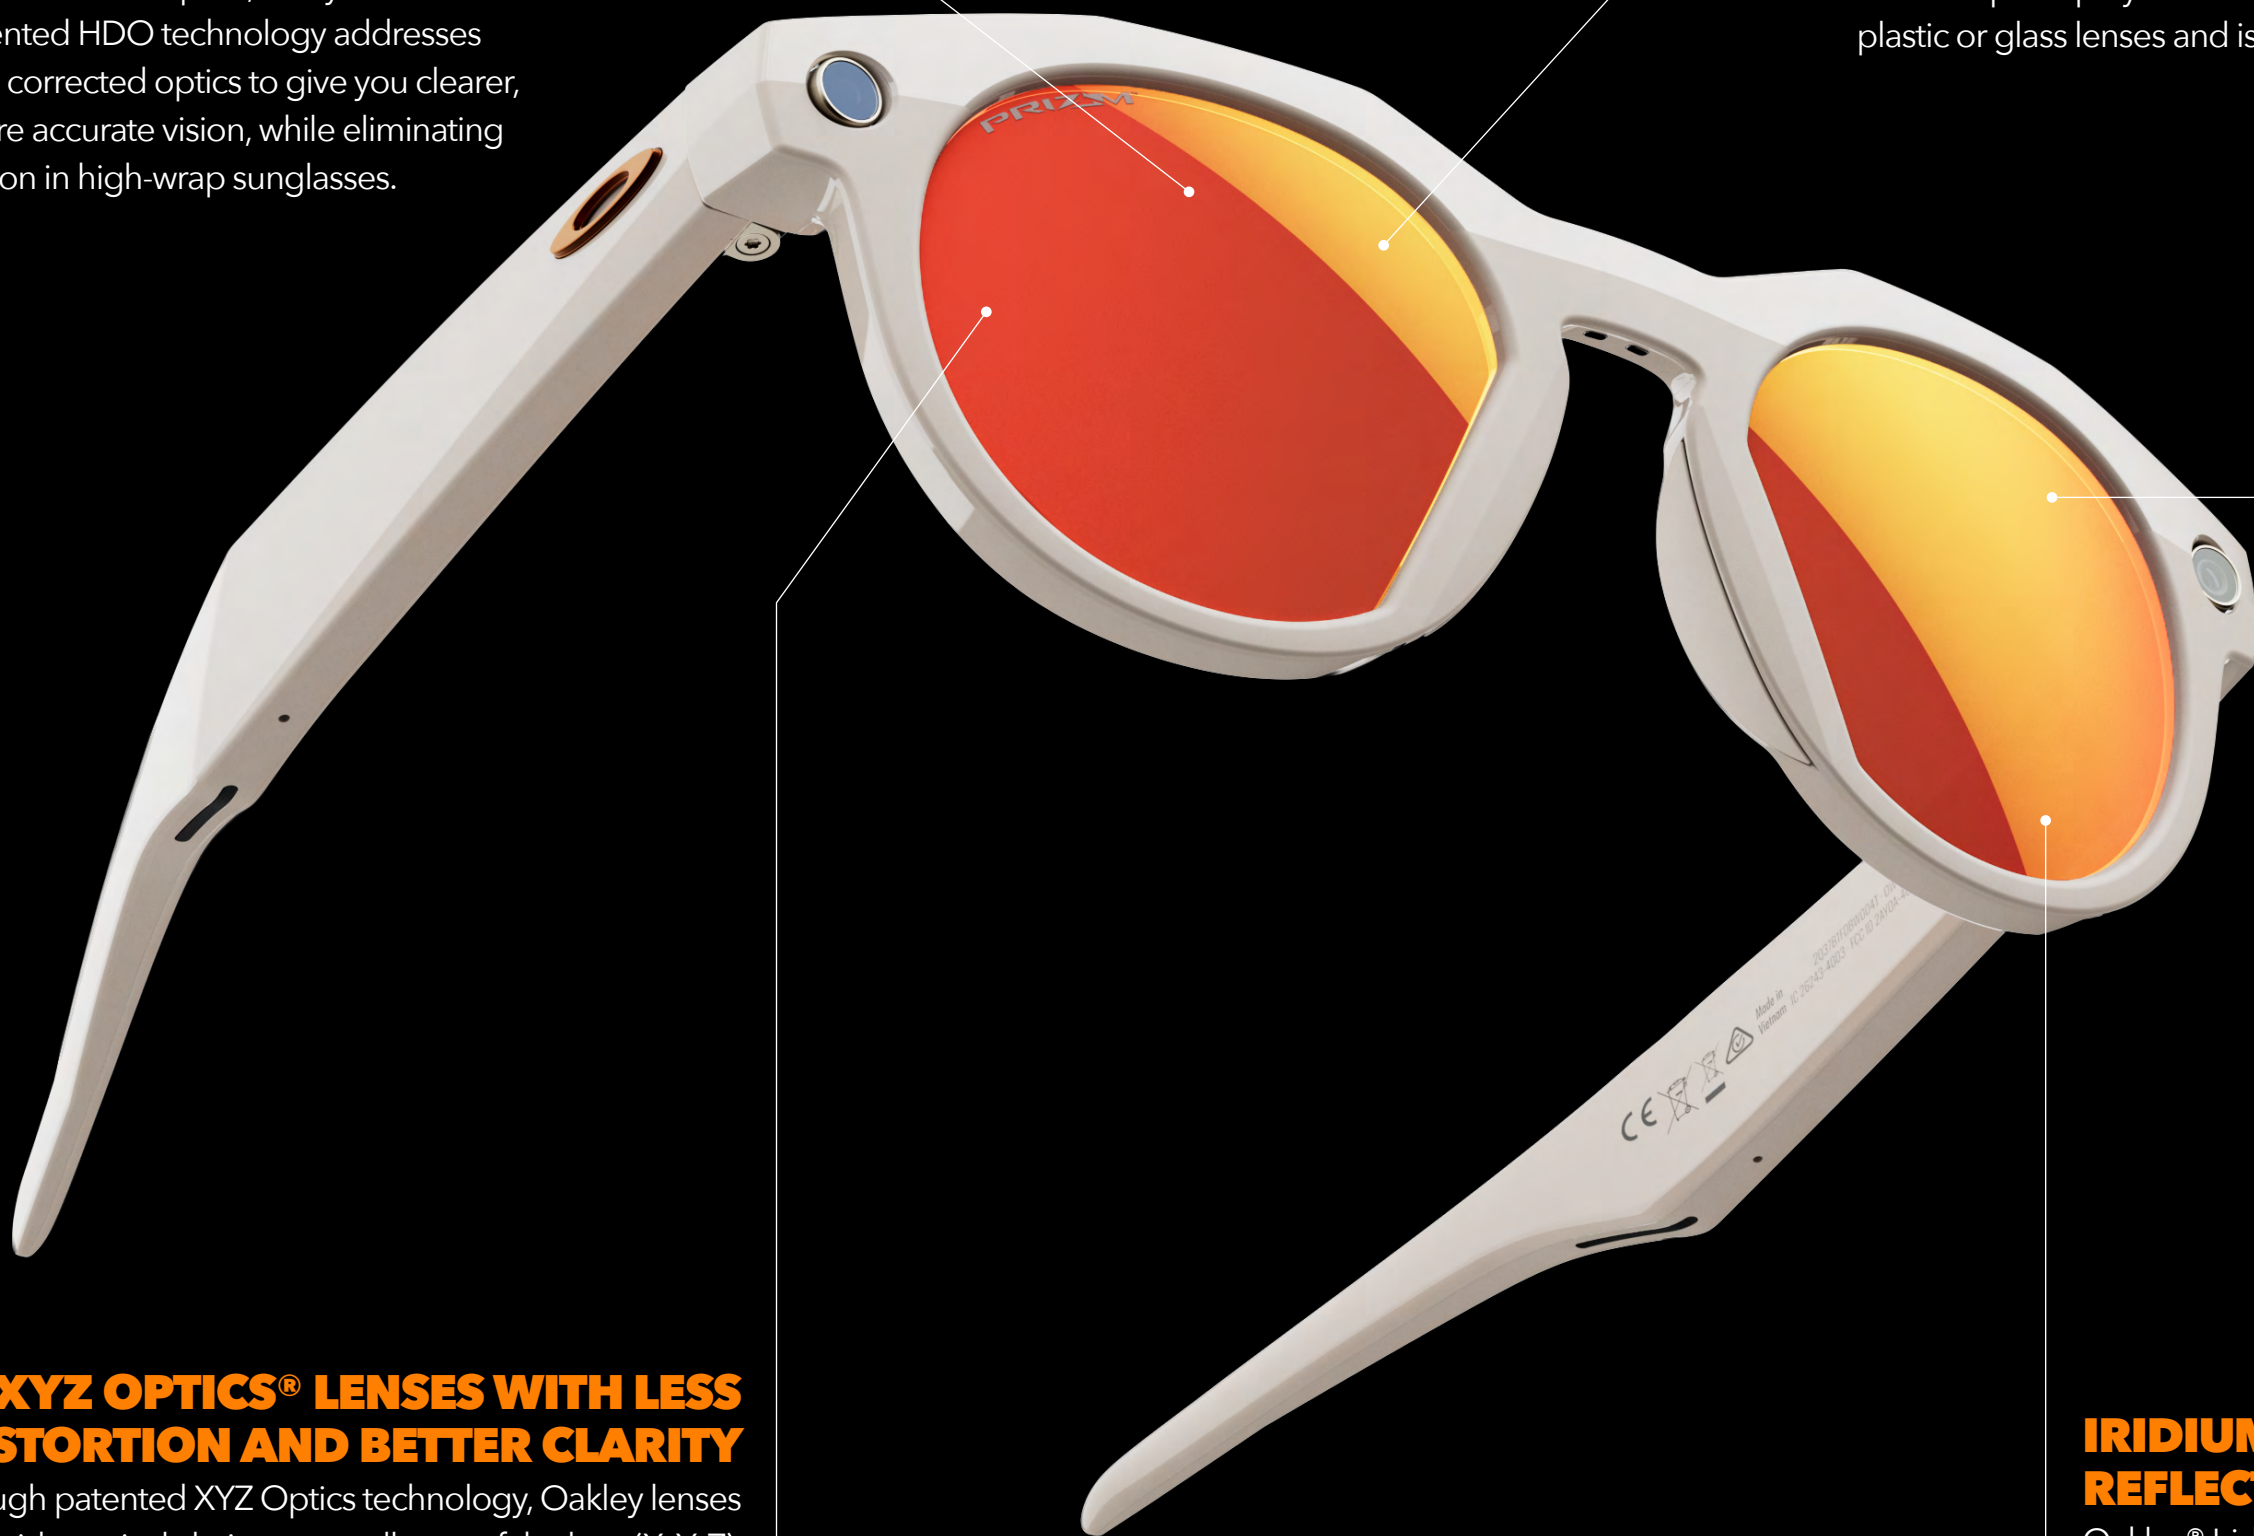

Protection is inherent in Plutonite® lens material to help protect eyes against 100% of UVA and UVB light up to 400 nm.

XYZ OPTICS® LENSES WITH LESS DISTORTION AND BETTER CLARITY

Through patented XYZ Optics technology, Oakley lenses provide optical clarity across all axes of the lens (X, Y, Z).

IRIDIUM®: THE COATING THAT REFLECTS LIGHT

Oakley® Iridium® is a special metal oxide coating on the lens designed to give a unique look by reflecting certain colors while working with the lens base tint to provide balanced light transmission.
